

The energy sector is undergoing a structural transformation with a collective goal of achieving carbon neutrality. As this evolves, the segments within which our client base are involved become increasingly interconnected – from crude oil production & refining to power generation from innovative renewable sources and everything in between.

As an integrated unit, we recognise the challenges and opportunities our clients will face as they make this transition. We can provide tailored packages to suit customer needs.

With years of experience, we pride ourselves on our industry understanding, responsiveness, solution-oriented underwriting and prompt claims settlement.

We offer coverage to a diversified client base ranging throughout the energy spectrum:

- Upstream: drilling contractors, exploration & production companies, including construction
- Downstream/Midstream: refining, petrochemicals, gas processing, storage & distribution
- Conventional Power: electricity generating companies both regulated and unregulated
- Renewables: onshore & offshore wind, solar, hydro and energy storage systems, including construction
