

Casualty Risk Control

Services for Sompo International Policyholders

Companies today face complex risk management issues that encompass regulatory, financial, legal, production, technical and other disciplines. To manage these potential risks, companies should engage experienced casualty risk control specialists and implement sound risk control engineering processes early on.

Sompo International's Casualty Risk Control professionals are industry leaders who actively participate in key trade associations such as the American Society of Safety Professionals (ASSP) and National Association of Safety Professionals (NASP) and hold Certified Safety Professional (CSP) and Certified Industrial Hygienist (CIH) designations.

Our practical risk management programs are tailored to each client's business operations, market environment and priorities to assist our clients with their safety and risk management efforts. By providing industry leading risk mitigation services, Sompo International's Casualty Risk Control Specialists help clients identify risk improvement objectives and customize our recommendations, so our insureds can minimize losses and stay ahead of the unexpected.

With deep industry knowledge built from extensive experience, our Casualty Risk Control teams work closely with our dedicated underwriters and claims specialists to help monitor emerging trends and minimize loss potential.
