SOMPO INTERNATIONAL

CASE IN POINT: Fair and Appropriate Outcomes

A crane owned by a Sompo International client failed resulting in serious injuries to the claimant. The company that rented the crane from our insured refused to acknowledge any fault on its part. The rental company subsequently misrepresented the full amount of their insurance coverage, a violation of the local law. Our Casualty Claims adjuster used this information to leverage a significant contribution from the crane rental company which allowed the claim to resolve favorably for our insured.

2 CASE IN POINT: Industry and Product Expertise

A Sompo International client was the target of securities and shareholder derivative class action litigation, as well as regulatory investigations. Our Commercial Management Liability Claims team leveraged its collective experience to assist in negotiating settlements of the lawsuits, while ensuring that specific insurance proceeds under the Sompo Policy were reserved for any individual insureds' liability arising from the regulatory investigations.

CASE IN POINT: Partnering for Proactive Risk Mitigation

A Sompo International client requested an audit by an outside law firm that specializes in professional defense, ethical questions, and grievance matters. Their goal was to find a retained resource for identifying vulnerabilities before claims arise. Working with our insured's broker, our Lawyers' Professional Liability Claims team identified an appropriate law firm and attorney to provide the initial audit and then to serve as an ongoing resource for our client – a relationship that has solidified over several policy years.

4 CASE IN POINT: Partnering with Retained Counsel

Sompo's insured is an owner of a residential building. While a tenant in the building was on vacation, the air conditioner in the unit malfunctioned, causing a water leak. A mold condition developed that impacted multiple units in the building. The tenant refused to return to the unit or allow the insured to access it. Using Sompo's panel counsel and environmental consultants, we were able to remove and store the tenant property, remediate the mold condition in the unit and favorably resolve all claims against the insured.

What Our Clients are Saying About Us....

Just a short note to thank you and Sompo International for your professionalism in settling the recent Liability claims with [our company]. The claim was both large and complex and found your assistance and professionalism refreshing in an insurance environment which is at times very testing. Overall Sompo International's fairness and transference has been very well regarded by myself personally and by [our company] on a commercial basis. We look forward to continuing our relationship with you and Sompo International for many years to come.

- Top 100 Upstream Energy and Basic Materials Company, Global 2000 Forbes List It's rare to find a company that you feel comfortable recommending, with no hesitation, to anyone you meet, and I wanted to say thank you for that. This entire team at Sompo International – from the claims specialists to the underwriters, consistently show a broad wealth of knowledge across all industries that we touch; from a brokers perspective, that ability to provide expert, fair recommendations is invaluable.

- International Insurance Executive

The job being done is strikingly better than anyone I have ever worked with in a similar position, at any market...at every turn [our claims handler] has not only been willing to go above and beyond, but done so without even needing to do so as the claim was already being handled so well.

- Excess & Surplus Broker

Claims are great! You can trust claims- they are the best in the business. There are a lot of carriers I would not use based on their claims service. I would give them a 9.9 on a scale of 10.
